This is an authoritative and accessible volume containing invaluable information for diplomats, politicians and statesmen and women involved with international affairs. Specialists in International Relations, International Law, Political Science and Non-Governmental Organizations will also find great value in this product. Concise but comprehensive, The International Year Book and Statesmen's Who's Who is an essential reference tool for embassies, ministries, government departments, civil servants, researchers, librarians and all those interested in foreign affairs and global issues. It offers reliable information on every country in the world and includes profiles of territories, dependencies and federal states. In addition to offering background details on all states along with the latest available statistics and trends, The International Year Book and Statesmen's Who's Who also includes full contact details and list URLs to facilitate further research. The country profiles cross-reference to the biographical section which contains over 3,800 entries of people of world-renown.

International Organisations
The International Year Book and Statesmen's Who's Who includes an International Organisations section with an overview of over 500 organisations world-wide. The listings are arranged alphabetically within specialities ranging from Agriculture to Government and Politics to Welfare and Human Rights. Full contact details, including website addresses, follow each organisation overview.

United Nations
As in previous editions, full profiles of the United Nations and its specialised and affiliated agencies are also published. These include the aims, structure, programmes, funding, senior personnel and full contact details.

Intergovernmental Organisations
Full and accurate information is also published on all significant intergovernmental organisations – from the African Union to the Organization of Arab Petroleum Exporting Countries.
