

Scope

Dead Sea Discoveries (DSD) is an international journal dedicated to the study of the Dead Sea Scrolls and associated literature. The journal is primarily devoted to the discussion of the significance of the finds in the Judean Desert for Biblical Studies, and the study of early Jewish and Christian history. Dead Sea Discoveries has established itself as an invaluable resource for the subject both in the private collections of professors and scholars as well as in the major research libraries of the world.

Ethical and Legal Conditions

Submission of an article for publication in any of Brills' journals implies the following:

1. All authors are in agreement about the content of the manuscript and its submission to the journal.
2. The contents of the manuscript have been tacitly or explicitly approved by the responsible authorities where the research was carried out.
3. The manuscript has not been published previously, in part or in whole, in English or any other language, except as an abstract, part of a published lecture or academic thesis.
Dead Sea Discoveries occasionally accepts articles in English that have been published previously in Modern Hebrew.
4. The manuscript has not and will not be submitted to any other journal while still under consideration for this journal.
5. If accepted, the author agrees to transfer copyright to BRILL and the manuscript will not be published elsewhere in any form, in English or any other language, without prior written consent of the Publisher.
6. If the submission includes figures, tables, or large sections of text that have been published previously, the author has obtained written permission from the original copyright owner(s) to reproduce these items in the current manuscript in both the online and print publications of the journal. All copyrighted material has been properly credited in the manuscript. For more information on the reuse of figures, please go to brill.nl/downloads/Rights-in-Images.pdf.

Submission

Submissions to the journal should be sent by e-mail to etigchelaar@mac.com as .doc, .rtf, .mellel, or .pdf file. The e-mail should include the author's postal (institutional) address.

Double-blinded Peer Review

Dead Sea Discoveries uses a double-blind peer review system, which means that manuscript author(s) do not know who the reviewers are, and that reviewers do not know the names of the author(s). When you submit your manuscript, please submit a separate title page which includes the full title of the manuscript, plus the names and complete contact details of all authors. This page will not be accessible to the referees. The submission should be cleansed from any and all external or internal identifiers of author. This includes first-person references to one's own work, thanks to close colleagues, or references to one's own forthcoming work. Submitters of .pdf files should take care that their own names do not appear in the Adobe Reader > File > Properties > Description window. All other files (manuscript, figures, tables, etc.) should not contain any information concerning author names, institutions, etc. The names of these files should also be anonymized.

Submission Requirements

Language

Articles should preferably be written in English; contributions in French or German will occasionally be accepted. The text must be grammatically correct and in good literary style, using inclusive language.

Non-Roman Scripts

If your article contains non-Roman scripts (e.g., Greek, Hebrew) or diacritics please also submit a pdf file in which all non-Roman characters are displayed correctly.

For more information on handling non-Roman scripts, please also see the sections on the Brill website online on fonts and Unicode: brill.nl/files/brill.nl/metrica-characters-unicode-updated.pdf; and special scripts and transliteration: brill.nl/downloads/Handling-Transliteration.pdf.

Authors should use Hebrew or Greek functionally. The editor may remove unnecessary references to or quotations of Hebrew or Greek texts or words. Hebrew text (for example in quotations from the Hebrew Bible) should only be vocalized where the vowels are relevant for the discussion in the article.

Manuscript Structure

Except for references to the Dead Sea Scrolls, accepted articles should follow the style of the SBL Handbook of Style; sbl-site.org/assets/pdfs/SBLHS.pdf and, for cases of style that are not covered by the SBLHS, the Chicago Manual of Style; chicagomanualofstyle.org/contents.html.

Abstract and Keywords

Articles should include an abstract of 100–150 words, and a list of ca. 4 to 7 keywords.

Abstract and keywords should always be written in English, regardless of the language in which the actual article is written.

Dead Sea Scrolls

References to fragment, column, and line numbers of Dead Sea Scrolls should follow these generally accepted systems:

1. In general one should follow the system used in the later volumes of the DJD series: columns of manuscripts are indicated by capital Roman numbers, fragments and lines by Arabic numbers, and columns of fragments by small Roman numbers, all without commas. For example: 1Q22 I 5, 1Q36 25 3, 1Q27 1 ii 5.
2. In the case of large “non-biblical” manuscripts, such as 1QS, 1QM, 1QH^a, 1QpHab, 1QapGen, the Copper Scroll, and 11QT^a, one may use the system of column and line both in Arabic numbers, separated by a colon. For example, refer to 11QT^a 38:12–39:9 instead of 11QT^a XXXVIII 12–XXXIX 9. One may also use this system for large Cave 4 and 11 manuscripts, if the number of columns in the manuscript is reconstructed by the DJD editors. For example, refer to 4QS^c 5:1 instead of 4QS^c V 1.

DJD Editions

Bibliographical references to contributions in DJD editions may be abbreviated as follows: E. Schuller, DJD 29:77–232.

Publication

Proofs

Upon acceptance, a PDF of the article proofs will be sent to authors by e-mail to check carefully for factual and typographic errors. Authors are responsible for checking these proofs and are strongly urged to make use of the Comment & Markup toolbar to note their corrections directly on the proofs. At this stage in the production process only minor corrections are allowed. Alterations to the original manuscript at this stage will result in considerable delay in publication and, therefore, are not accepted unless charged to the author. Proofs should be returned promptly to the editor within the period requested.

E-Offprints

A PDF file of the article will be supplied free of charge by the publisher to authors for personal use. Brill is a RoMEO green publisher. Authors are allowed to post the pdf post-print version of their articles on their own personal websites free of charge. This means they can show the article exactly as it appears in print. The institute employing the author is allowed to post the post-refereed, but pre-print version of articles free of charge on its repository. The post-refereed, pre-print version means the final accepted version of the manuscript before typesetting.

Consent to Publish

Transfer of Copyright

By submitting a manuscript, the author agrees that the copyright for the article is transferred to the publisher if and when the article is accepted for publication. For that purpose the author needs to sign the Consent to Publish which will be sent with the first proofs of the manuscript.

Open Access

In case the author wishes to publish the article in Open Access he/she can choose the Brill Open option, which allows for a non-exclusive Open Access publication in exchange for an Article Publishing Fee, and sign a special Brill Open Consent to Publish.

More information on Brill's policy on Open Access can be found on brill.nl/open-access-policy. The Brill Open Consent to Publish can be downloaded from brill.nl/downloads/BrillOpen-Consent-to-Publish.pdf.
