

Scope

The aim of the Journal of Jewish Thought & Philosophy (JJTP) is to provide an international forum for Jewish thought, philosophy, and intellectual history from any given period. The emphasis is on high scholarly standards with an interest in issues of interpretation and the contemporary world. Articles are expected to cover philosophy, biblical studies, mysticism, literary criticism, political theory, sociology and anthropology. The journal welcomes submissions in English, French, and German, as well as English translations from articles first published in Hebrew.

Ethical and Legal Conditions

Submission of an article for publication in any of Brills' journals implies the following:

1. All authors are in agreement about the content of the manuscript and its submission to the journal.
2. The contents of the manuscript have been tacitly or explicitly approved by the responsible authorities where the research was carried out.
3. The manuscript has not been published previously, in part or in whole, in English or any other language, except as an abstract, part of a published lecture or academic thesis.
4. The manuscript has not and will not be submitted to any other journal while still under consideration for this journal.
5. If accepted, the author agrees to transfer copyright to BRILL and the manuscript will not be published elsewhere in any form, in English or any other language, without prior written consent of the Publisher.
6. If the submission includes figures, tables, or large sections of text that have been published previously, the author has obtained written permission from the original copyright owner(s) to reproduce these items in the current manuscript in both the online and print publications of the journal. All copyrighted material has been properly credited in the manuscript. For more information on the reuse of figures, please go to brill.nl/downloads/Rights-in-Images.pdf.

Submission

Please submit an electronic file by e-mail to:

Robert Erlewine, Department of Religion, Illinois Wesleyan University,

E-mail: rerlewin@iwu.edu

In your e-mail message, please include your full name, affiliation, mailing address, e-mail, address and telephone number.

Double-Blinded Peer Review

JJTP uses a double-blinded peer review system, which means that manuscript author(s) do not know who the reviewers are, and that reviewers do not know the names of the author(s). Authors should therefore take care to eliminate any clue to their identity from the text of the manuscript, for instance, by ensuring that citations to their own work are in the third person. For the same reason, authors are advised to hold off on including acknowledgments until they finalize the manuscript for publication.

All files (manuscript, figures, tables, etc.) should not contain any information concerning author names, institutions, etc. The names of these files and document properties should also be anonymized.

Submission Requirements

Language

Manuscripts will be accepted in English (British or American), German, or French. An author's priority should be consistency in whatever language their submission is written in.

For articles in German or French, please adhere to the style commonly applied in scholarly literature.

General

Wide margins of at least 2.5 cm (1 inch) are to be left on all edges of the page. All parts (abstract, body, footnotes, etc.) must be double-spaced and numbered consecutively.

Non-Roman Scripts

If nonstandard fonts are used, such as Coptic, Arabic, and Syriac, copies of the font files must also accompany the submission file for publication purposes only. Characters that do not appear in the standard Roman alphabet (i.e., accented letters, diacritical marks) should be very plainly identified.

Manuscript Structure

The first page of the manuscript should carry the full title of the article and the name and affiliation of the author, followed by the Abstract.

The remaining manuscript should be arranged in the following sequence:

Article text (with footnotes), Bibliography or reading list (if any), Appendices (if any), Figure captions (if any), Tables (if any), and Figures. Acknowledgements should be addressed as a non-numbered footnote which will appear before the first footnote.

Transliteration

Please use: brill.nl/downloads/Simple_Arabic_transliteration.pdf; brill.nl/downloads/Handling-Greek.pdf; brill.nl/downloads/Hebrew_transliteration_scholarly.pdf

Transliteration of words and proper names in Arabic, Greek, Hebrew, etc., should be consistent throughout.

Abstract & Keywords

Abstracts should not exceed 100 words in English and give a brief summary of the article or an outline of its argumentation, or sum up the points discussed. Keywords (3-8) should also be provided.

Footnotes

Notes should be numbered consecutively throughout the text and follow any punctuation marks, such as a period or comma, within the text. References should be included within the notes (but any Reading List or Bibliography can be presented as the final section of the paper). Take care to ensure that each footnote reference appears in the appropriate position in the text.

Italics

Please italicize matter that is intended to be italicized.

Style

In general, please consult The Chicago Manual of Style, 16th ed. (Chicago: University of Chicago Press, 2010; also available online at: chicagomanualofstyle.org/home.html for guidance.

Quotations

Direct quotations of fewer than twenty-five words should be enclosed in double quotation marks (“ ”) and run on in the text.

Double quotation marks should also be used for titles of journal articles and reference works.

Single quotation marks (‘ ’) are used to enclose words and phrases within double quotation marks.

Block Quotes

Larger sections of quoted text (i.e. anything over twenty-five words) should be set off from other text by adding a blank line above and below the section and indenting the entire quotation 1.5 inches from the left. These larger sections, or block quotations, are not enclosed in quotation marks.

Publication

Proofs

Upon acceptance, a PDF of the article proofs will be sent to the author by e-mail to check carefully for factual and typographic errors. Authors are responsible for checking these proofs and are strongly urged to make use of the Comment & Markup toolbar to note their corrections directly on the proofs. At this stage in the production process only minor corrections are allowed. Authors' alterations in excess of 10% of the original composition cost will be charged to authors. Proofs should be returned within one week of receipt.

E-Offprints

A PDF file of the article will be supplied free of charge by the publisher to the corresponding author for personal use. Brill is a RoMEO green publisher. Authors are allowed to post the pdf post-print version of their articles on their own personal websites free of charge. This means they can show the article exactly as it appears in print. The institute employing the author is allowed to post the post-refereed, but pre-print version of articles free of charge on its repository. The post-refereed, pre-print version means the final accepted version of the manuscript before typesetting.

Consent to Publish

Transfer of Copyright

By submitting a manuscript, the author agrees that the copyright for the article is transferred to the publisher if and when the article is accepted for publication. For that purpose the author needs to sign the Consent to Publish which will be sent with the first proofs of the manuscript.

Open Access

In case the author wishes to publish the article in Open Access he/she can choose the Brill Open option, which allows for a non-exclusive Open Access publication in exchange for an Article Publishing Fee, and sign a special Brill Open Consent to Publish.

More information on Brill's policy on Open Access can be found on brill.nl/open-access-policy. The Brill Open Consent to Publish can be downloaded from brill.nl/downloads/BrillOpen-Consent-to-Publish.pdf.
