Research in the Social Scientific Study of Religion

Research in the Social Scientific Study of Religion (RSSSR) publishes reports of innovative studies that pertain either empirically or theoretically to the scientific study of religion, including spirituality, regardless of their academic discipline or professional orientation. In each volume, various articles are presented covering psychological, sociological and cross-cultural topics relevant to scholars and academic researchers concerned with religion and spirituality.

RSSSR will be of interest to scholars and researchers in the social and behavioral sciences, religion, and theology who pay attention to the scientific investigation of religion and spirituality.

RSSSR's editor-in-chief, Ralph L. Piedmont is Psychologist at the Department of Pastoral Counseling, Loyola College in Maryland, Columbia, USA. His publications include The Revised NEO Personality Inventory: Clinical and Research Applications (Plenum Press, 1998).

To submit an article for this periodical, please send your paper as a Word file per email to the editor-in-chief, Ralph Piedmont, at RPiedmont@loyola.edu.
